W. M. FIFE'S Patent Oblique Gold Pen.—The excellence of a well-made Quill Pen is acknowledged by all, but new are aware that the cause is that it bends laterally at the point, in making strong shades, and docomes an Oblique Pen.

Teachers of penmanship always direct the pupil to hold the pen so that the top will point over the right shoulder, for by so doing the split and shades are brought more in a line; but still, "when held well," there is from 16 to 35 degrees difference between the split of the pen and the downward marks. W. Fife's Oblique Pen obviates this difficulty. It curves or deflects from 16 to 35 degrees to the right at the point where it comes in contact with the paper, and it is as perfect an instrument for sloped writing as the straight pen is for back hand. DR. HALL'S BALSAM! Consumption Prevented.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 16, 1849. Dear Sir:-I take great pleasure in recommending to the public a most efficacious remedy for the cure of Pul-monary Affections, Dr. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE SUNDRIES.— LUNGS. I do not profess to understand the treatment of Consumption in all its different stages, and in all the phases that it assumes before it consigns its victims to the grave; but of one thing I am assured-that if I had not made use of this invaluable remedy, I should myself have fallen a victim to its unyielding grasp. It is genermore difficult to treat, than almost any other. It is also admitted, that it should be first attended to in the first stages. Any one who can discover a remedy that will check it in its first symptoms, is entitled to the gratitude of his fellow-men. I believe that Dr. W. Hall has discovered a remedy.

During the months of January and February last, my lungs became so much affected as to cause great uneasiness at every breath I drew. My cough, my expectoration, and the violent pains in my side, indicated that cleared from the port of New Orleans on the What is the reason a counterfeit bank bill 14th inst, twenty five thousand six hundred Lungs, which gave me IMMEDIATE RELIEF, and is never an exact imitation of the original? and forty-six bales of cotton. ANOTHER STEAMBOAT ACCIDENT .- About dark on the evening of the 15th inst., the steamer Caddo, when in the act of landing about 50 miles above New Orleans, struck a log vio lently, which stove a large hole in her bow, through which the water rushed with great rapidity, causing her to sink in three or four min utes. She was near the shore at the time, in about eight or ten feet water on the land side, the water being very deep on the other side .-As she sunk, the cabin broke from the hull and floated off. So sudden was the disaster that the passengers had to leap into the water and attempt to swim ashore. They were unable to save anything but the clothes they had on. It is thought that some four or five lives were lost The ladies and children were all saved. The Caddo had on board 411 hhds sugar and 150 barrels of molasses. We do not know whether there was any insurance on the boat or cargo.

"This monster of the cactus family assumes various forms-sometimes rising in a single fluted column to the heighth of 30 or 40 feet; others, at 8 or 10 feet from the ground, divide into two or more branches, which turn upward like the prongs of an inverted fork; others, again, throw off four or more arms, disposed with great symmetry, appearing like giant candelabra. These covered the rocks on both sides for miles, and among them grew numerous humbler spe cies of the same family, some loaded with rich red fruit, others trailing their snaky branches over the rocks, altogether forming a striking and peculiar vegetation, unlike any thing we had before seen."

Quite a number of the most respectable of our citizens in this region of country, design lo cating themselves in some of our western States or Territories this coming spring. We would b glad to have your answers to the following in quiries at your earliest convenience, with a view to assist us in coming to a definite conclu sion in regard to our locating in the district of the Territory which you design occupying.

Question 1. Where do you design locating? What is the character of the soil? 3. Is it level, rolling or hilly. 4. Is it timbered; if so, what kind and quali

5. Do you esteem it healthy; and do you con sider it likely to be subject to fever and ague? 6. Is coal to be found in any quantity; and is building stone abundant? 7. Do springs of good water abound; and how s it for water powers? I have put my inquiries in the foregoing republican in character as our own. We should judge of those who figure most extensively at your views with as little trouble to yourself as possible. I should like to know when you de sign leaving Cincinnati, and what the cost o passage will be from that point to your destinaion, and the time likely to be consumed in the iourney?

MANSPIRLD'S.

BY MISS SARAH M. HOWE.

In one of the deepest and darkest dungeons of Paris sat the Count La Gravierre musing upon his approaching doom. Long he had sat motionless, with his face buried in his hands, until his mind diverted from things around him, ran back through the long dim vista of the past. Years before, his loved and loving wife had been laid in the silent tomb, leaving him one sweet child—the beautiful Celestine. For his sweet daughter, alone he had lived, and upon her had he set his affections. But when the terrific revolution commenced when the terrific revolution commenced and the Reign of Terror spread like a pall over the land, he found that his country demanded his attention. The doomed king found in him a friend, and his unfortunate queen, the beautiful and brokenhearted Marie Antoinette, had prayed heaven to bless him for his kindness to her. The Girondists, and all true friends many were the blessings invoked upon his head and prayers offered for his safety. But he, too, was doomed. On the morrow the dreaded guillotine would receive another victim. The door of his dungeon was slowly opened, and his daughter entered and threw herself into his outstretched arms.

'My sweet Celestine,' said the Count,

"My daughter!"

"Yes, father, I too am doomed to die." "Has the tyrant taken thee also?" "To morrow, dear father, I am doomed

by Robespierre to be beheaded." 'My daughter! My own sweet Celestine! Was I but for a few moments free, the tyrant of France should no longer live to pollute the earth with his deeds," cried the Count passionately.

'Be calm, dear father,' said the heroic girl, in a firm, clear voice, I can meet my fate without a sigh or tear. I fear not death-it is welcome. Life would be but a burden without one to share it, when thou wert no longer left me, and cheerfully I await my doom.'

'My own noble Celestine!' cried the father, clasping his daughter yet closer in his arms. Even at that moment he felt a thrill of pleasure as he heard the calm words of his heroic child. But a thrill of the deepest anguish followed, as he

"You must return to your prison. Lady Celestine," said one of the guards, slowly opening the massive door of the dungeon and entering: 'The half hour allowed you to visit your father is spent, and the guard is awaiting your appearance." "Farewell, dearest father!" said the

"Farewell, my beloved daughter!" said the Count, in a tone of deepest anguish, "may Heaven grant that we be not avenged!"

As she passed through the door of the dungeon, she turned and cast one more glance upon her father. That glance, ment of death, the much-feared guillotine, which stood in a conspicuous part of the city, a crowd of excited people were collected. The Count La Graviere and his noble and beautiful daughter, the Lady Celestine, were that morning to be executed, and the populace had collected to witness the scene. A crowd much larger than commonly gathered around the guillotine on such occasions, was now collected, for the Count had been a noted friend of the Girondists, and there were some, that truly knew his many virtues, that knew him but to love him. To be contineed.

All that is Needed!

From M. BEASLEY, Esq., Concordia, Tenne 1868, ESSRS. B. A. FAHNESTOCK & CO.—Gents: ed us to try it in this case, which we did immediately. The half of a vial expelled a great quantity of worms, some of them as thick as the little finger, after which the boy got perfectly well. I think in more than half the cases of sickness of children, the use of the Vermifuge will be all that is needed. It has saved many lives in his part of the country, and we think we could not do without it. In my son's family, where there are severabilidren, your Vermifuge is almost the only remedy they ever have occasion to use for the various ailments that little ones are subject to. There is no remedy more generally known or more highly esteemed in west Ten-nessee than your Vermifuge, and it gives me pleasure to

T is often asked, how can a medicine so simple in its nature perform such wonderful cures? We answer, this T incture is composed entirely of vegetables from nature's garden, which give strength and tone to the stomach—creating a healthy appetite, which the patient is at liberty to indulge, then it is life finds its way to every member throughout the entire system. The liver then, whose functions are vital and of every importance to the system, commences its healthy operations, which are: first, to clean itself; next, it opens the pores, throws off all impurity of blood and food, clears off that gloom and wretched feeling which ever attends a morbid liver. The bowels now become regulated, and healthy action takes place—every nerve receiving its wonted life; the whole system is invigorated, rendering life truly desirable and comfortable.

McAllister's All-healing Ointment
I is generally conceded that this Medicine has effected more cures than any seven remedies ever presented to the public. It has probably cured more cases of Files, Rheumatism, sore Byes, Burns, Tumors, Sait Rheum, Quincy, Sore Throat, &c., than all the popular medicines in use; and I am positive in Liver Complaint, Scrofuls, Asthma, Coughs, Consumptions, Spinal Diseases, Worms, Broken or Sore Breasts, Headache and the like, nothing can be found with physicians or druggists that is so good, and the cure so quick. In all complaints peculiar to females especially, its efficacy appears al most miraculeus.

BRILLIANT Teeth and Sweet Breath.— There can be not the slightest doubt but that many diseases arise from neglect of the teeth. Pure air is as necessary to health as food is to live, but those having dirty teeth and spongy gums are constantly is having an im-pure atmosphere, and hence many diseases arise which eliaps are never attributed to the light case. JULES HAUEL'S PURIFIED CHARCOAL TOOTH-PASTE is decidedly the best remedy yet discovered for diseased teeth and gums, as it neutralizes the disagreeable odor and healthy. All dentists agree that charcoal is an excellent dentrifice; but meny persons have been fearful of using it on account of the hard and gritty substances which are generally mixed wint it, and which are calculated to injure the enamel of the teeth.

Jules Hauel's Purified Charcoal Tooth Paste is entired by the Hauel's Purified Charcoal Tooth Paste is entired by the Hauel's Purified Charcoal Tooth Paste will impart the most beautiful and brilliant whiteness to the teeth, keep the gums healthy, and make the breath pure and sweet.
